- supports associations, railways and the railway industry by providing information about politics, economy and technology
- supports training and development of engineers through certification of european railway engineer
- can compile dossiers

UEEIV is especially active in the following areas:

Technology and interoperability

- Optimized maintenance of infrastructure
- Technologies for the promotion of interoperability of trains

Operation and management

- Organisation and management-development for the modernisation of railways
- Training and development of human resources especially for the interoperability of trains

Consulting

- Analysis of roi (return on invest)
- Cooperation in feasibility studies

Seminars

In the last 13 years UEEIV has held international railway industry seminars most of all in Eastern Europe.

Since then around 60 two-day seminars have been organised with participation of 100 – 250 participants from railway companies from all over Europe at each event.

At this opportunity contacts have been made very successfully between the general directorate, the authorities in charge for infrastructure policy and the companies.

Moreover additional meetings of the supporting members and the presidency with lectures addressing urgent issues take place continually.

Certification „European Railway Engineer (EURAIL-ING)“ offers opportunities for different interest-groups

Certification should...

...for the railway engineers

- be a motivator for their personal development,
- be proof of skills for trained personnel,
- offer better chances for employ,
- improve their chances for a professional career and
- improve their professional mobility within Europe.

...for the railway authorities and -companies

- offer security and accountability during the selection and assignement of contracts to outsiders.

...for the companies of the railway industry and -economy

- better chances during invitations to tender through proof of qualified personnel
- securing a high-quality performance and
- serve as criteria for the process of hiring railway engineers

...for the colleges and universities:

- prompt them to offer a equally high qualification of railway engineers, which takes into account the european development.
